

From the Board of Directors of the Food Security Education Project

August 2026

Namaste

Thank you for applying for an FSEP scholarship for studies in the food security sciences. We are pleased to inform you that we are offering you a scholarship and wish you success as you pursue your chosen field of study.

Scholarships are for the duration of your B.Sc. degree and will be contingent upon your continuing education in the food security sciences, as well as acceptable academic performance in the classes in which you enroll.

In accepting this scholarship, you agree to communicate with the FSEP anytime during your education when personal problems arise that may affect your academic progress which the FSEP should be aware of and may offer understanding and assistance. At the end of each semester, you agree to provide your semester marksheet and a brief report on your educational experience, and to inform the FSEP of progress in maintaining academic requirements. Your scholarship may be terminated if you fail to meet the academic standard of maintaining a minimum GPA of 3.0. Falling below 3.0 for two consecutive semesters will cause the FSEP to reevaluate your scholarship.

You recognize the charitable intent of this Project is the education of students in the food security sciences with the expectation that they remain in Nepal and make their contribution to local and national food security concerns.

We would appreciate receiving two photos of yourself which, with your permission, we would like to display on our website along with a brief story of yourself and your educational plans. We would like one of the photos to be a portrait photo.